

JONAS SALK

Jonas Salk (October 28, 1914 – June 23, 1995) was an American virologist who developed one of the first successful vaccines against the polio virus. Salk chose not to patent – and therefore not profit – from the vaccine so that the world could more quickly share the life-saving benefits of his discovery.

