

Make Thinking Visible

"I AM ENOUGH OF AN ARTIST TO DRAW FREELY UPON MY IMAGINATION."

— ALBERT EINSTEIN

Sketches spark conversation and show what people think.

Sketching is a form of communication. Art is a universal language.

Identifying your learning style helps build your creative skills.

Everyone who expresses ideas through drawings, drama, or music is an artist.

CREATE a quick sketch that shows your learning style. What inspires you to ask strong questions, reflect on what you understand, and search for more information?

PRESENT your sketch and the ideas behind it.

RESPOND to other people's sketches and ideas. Discuss a recent time when you used the arts to make your thinking visible.

CONNECT the learning benefits of visual art, creative writing, music, drama, and dance to the ways people make thinking visible.